BETTER WORLD FOR women and girls

ZONTA organization is an international human rights organization whose activities and influence are directed at women and girls. The organization is religiously and politically independent. ZONTA's core mission is to prevent violence and to promote educational opportunities for women and girls. All activities take into account the impact of climate change on the well-being of women and girls, as well as on their societal status, both locally and globally.

What does Zonta do?

Together, we are building a better world for women and girls. We collect funds that are used totally for various projects. We provide concrete help to places where women and girls have weak starting points. We support the education of girls and women, allocate funds to work against violence for women and girls and to prevent child marriage. Together, we increase the self-esteem of girls and women and their opportunities to participate in decision-making.

The word ZONTA means honest and trustworthy in the language of the Lakota Indians. It symbolizes the core values and ethical goals of Zonta activities. Enthusiasm, commitment and working together are the most important elements when we build a better future for women and girls.

Locals clubs are the heart of Zonta's work

Members working in local clubs are the heart and core group of Zonta activities. Members belong to the global Zonta International organization through their clubs. Clubs meet monthly and each member can participate in activities within the framework of their own life situation. Members are always welcome to attend meetings of different Zonta clubs and also have the opportunity to participate in international meetings and learn about Zonta activities in other countries.

Diverse cooperation locally and globally

The activities of the Zonta organization are local, national and international. Clubs cooperate locally with other organizations, communities (including shelters) and services in a variety of ways. District 20 of Finland and Estonia cooperates with the Federation of Mother and Child Homes and Shelters. Internationally, cooperation is carried out with UNICEF, UN-Women and the Council of Europe.
